General Comment

Almost everyday I hear of another attempt by the government to control and take over my life. I like millions of other citizens have worked hard their whole life only to be continually controlled, deprived and taxed to death. Now I hear some of you in government want to control and get a piece of my retirement. It seems like it's never enough. I smell another tea party brewing. You politicians think you know better than your constituents what is best for us. You are supposed to be the mouthpiece of the citizens you represent. I emphasize "citizens". I hope the people that get this are not part of the problem and relay this to the people who are the problem. I ask you to start doing the right thing for the "working" people of this country instead of yourselves, the bums that live pretty well from cradle to grave without having to work at all. Again I apologize if this goes to someone that wants to help correct the mess stated above. Thank you
